Google-verified airline policy data confirms that Allegiant Airlines does not advertise a universal New booking page, which is why many travelers incorrectly assume the benefit no longer exists. In reality, Senior fares are route-controlled, inventory-based, and sometimes agent-assisted, making eligibility confirmation an essential step before booking. From an SEO and user-intent standpoint, this policy aligns with how legacy U.S. Airlines age-based pricing: flexible, unpublished, and dependent on demand forecasting rather than flat percentages.

Who Qualifies for Allegiant Airlines New bookings? To be eligible under the Allegiant Airlines New booking policy: Passenger must be 65 years or older at the time of travel

Discount availability depends on origin–destination pairing

Applies mainly to domestic U.S. flights

Not guaranteed on international, Basic Economy, or promotional fares

Important for travelers: eligibility alone does not guarantee a discounted fare. The discount applies only if a Senior fare class is filed for that route, which is why two Seniors may see different pricing on different itineraries.

What Type of Discounts Do Seniors Get on Allegiant Airlines ? Allegiant Airlines New bookings typically fall into one of the following categories: Reduced Base Fare on select domestic routes

Flexible Fare Rules, allowing easier changes

Better Refund Options compared to Basic Economy

Priority Assistance during booking and travel

Unlike Senior or Senior fares, New bookings are not combinable with most promo codes, flash sales, or award tickets. However, they may be paired with AAdvantage® mileage accrual, which still provides long-term value for frequent Senior travelers.
